

St. Philip's 2010 Summer Camp Details Registration Form Online

June 14 -18 A week of the Arts – We'll study famous artists and create special art projects, try our hand at acting and see the results on "the big screen", and play a variety of musical instruments and experience a sampling of Classical, Jazz, and Rock music.

June 21 - 25 A week of Crazy Science – Get out the lab coats and goggles! This week will be packed with crazy science experiments and fun learning.

June 28 – July 2 A week of Space Travel and Space Games – Explore the planets, become an astronaut, create your own universe, and join in some special 'space' games.

July 12 – 16 A week of Tunnels and Channels - Learn about the world's most famous tunnels and channels and then dig, build, and create some of your own out of different materials.

July 19 – 23 A week of Favorite Stories – Each day experience a favorite story in a new and interactive way and create visual aids to help tell the story. Then, write and illustrate your own story.

July 26 – 30 A week of LEGO Mania – This week you can create with LEGOs until ya drop! We'll have fun individual competitions for the Dandiest Dwelling, and the Trippiest Transport, the most Creative Creation. We'll also have team a competition to build the most Magnificent Metropolis!

Who should come: Children must be at least 3 ½ years of age by May 1, 2010 (birthday prior to Nov. 2, 2006) and fully potty trained to enroll. Children through age 7 will enjoy these programs.

Camp Plus!

For children who attend the morning Camp Program but need extended care; after having fun in the morning programs these hardy campers will have lunch (provided from home) and be able to keep right on enjoying the company of friends and fun activities. Here they'll be able to really concentrate on creating that Lego structure or get wrapped up in creating an imaginary world of their own. Afternoon campers will also enjoy some fun outside activities including water games and gardening in our own "backyard". Younger children will be able to have a rest time as well.

11:30 to 3:00 $100 dollars per week

No registration fee

Snack is provided each day
